OH! WHAT A PITCHER MERIDEN HAD IN JOYCE

pridgeport Cops are Beaten 2 to 1 in Contest With Silver City Police.

SCORE WAS 10 TO 5

A lengthy piece of humanity, called Joyce, a special on the Meriden police orce, with all the ear marks of a baseball served up the twisters for the Meriden cops yesterday at Newfield Park, and as a result, the Bridgeport received the bitter end of the se. 10-5. Meriden also brought along dose, 10-5. Meriden also brought along another special, who did the catching. If he arrested a man, it is believed he'd have to come up with the "Honest to God" gag. He tooked more like a kid, but he held Joyce up in good style. The Meriden cops played well in the field, but one error being rung in against them, that of a julcy misplay by Sweet in the fourth inning, which goest two runs.

Meriden did not send down a very large delegation, but those who were there whooped it up in game fashion especially "Rooster" Barnes, who had the barnyard flayer beaten to a frazzie. The more the Bridgeport rooters got to Barnes, the more "Rooster" crowed. And maybe, the Bridgeport boys were not cheered when ever they pulled off a good play. There was a special section in the grandstand, just in back of the press box, that was occupied by Bridgeport's best. They was a section in the grandstand, just in back of the press box, that was occupied by Bridgeport's best. They was led on by Jack McGovern and Jack McGirr, their voices getting dimmer each inning, until at the finish, there was nothing to them but a blank. Now for the players; Bridgeport speared on the field in suits of blue with the words "Bridgeport Police" across the front. Meriden was not to be left in the lurch, producing something quite chic in light grey shirts, with a darker grey for the trousers. "Meriden Police" adorned the breast. The Meriden specials were allowed to wear the same uniform as the regulars from that town. As was stated the visitors performed well; Joyce at once showed that he had been seasoned, as the locals could not hit him, while Buckley, the diminutive catcher let the fans get wise to the fact that he was not a regular. They all ran bases like professionals, Tom Ivers' whip not seeming enough to stop them, at that only half a dozen got away. For Bridgeport Jack Dempsey stood a lot of kidding, but he was equal to it, playing a fast game. He worked into a double play in the fifth, which any ball player might feel proud of.

Yes, and right here take off your hats to Officer Dempsey, as he was responsible for all of the locals runs. In the second it was his drive to Sweet, that the latter player fumbled that allowed Bridgeport her first two runs, while in the ninth after two men had been hit with pitched balls, Jack was en did not send down a very cop playing third base, with three put outs and half a dozen assists, accept-ing all, and slipping up on only one. It's a day's work that Officer Dempsey may well feel proud of. Tom Malone started in to twirl for the locals. Tom passed the first man, who later scored on a double by Joyce. Then in the on a double by Joyce. Then in the second two errors by Hal Chase Dal-wig, followed by three singles, netted four runs. Malone settled down after this inning pitching fine ball, holding e visitors to nothing. O'Leary tried work the Mugsy McGraw act in e ending of the fourth. There were men on bases, with but one wn, and Malone's turn at the bat. down, and Malone's turn at the bat. The noodle play now came. There was a pinch hitter doing duty on the bench, named Bagley. 'Bag" was sent in to bat for Malone, necessitating that player's retirement from the game. Bagley used a left hand stroke, three of the strokes going to the wind. Then came Jack Dempsey, with Sweet's error following. The withdrawal of Malone brought out Ike Williams with his slow fadeaway teaser. The visitors Malone brought out Ike Williams with his slow fadeaway teaser. The visitors could do nothing till the sixth, when four singles and a double gave four runs. It was never say die for Bridgeport. The local cops had the fans on their feet in the final stanza. Two batters were hit with pitched balls after one was out. Then came Jack Dempsey with a doubly followed by Carte O'Leary with a timely single. Capt. O'Leary with a double, followed by Capt. O'Leary with a timely single. The next batter was passed, but the men following were moved down by the clever work of Joyce. But we'll get them yet. The score: MERIDEN. ab. r. 1b. po. ORATORS PLAY SPENDIDLY GAME AGAINST HOLYOKE

Are Beaten by Near Leaders Only in Eleventh Inning and by One Run, When a Happy Hit by McCormack Settles the Contest.

(Springfield Union.) Holyoke, July 22.-If past performances were any criterion, Holyoke should have given Uncle Jeems O'Rourke's "best team" the wrost man that receives money for playing drubbing ever received in its career yesterday afternoon. Monday, Holyoke trounced Hartford, the league lead Tuesday Hartford walloped Bridgeport twice, yet yesterday the despised Orators forced the Papermakers to go 11 innings before they succumbed to a 5 to 4 setback.

Piling up four runs in the opening inning, Bridgeport was unable to increase its total in any of the remaining 10 sections. In the mean time, by bunching hits and taking advantage of some loose fielding, the domestics of some loose fielding, the domestics succeeded in tying the score in the sixth inning. Ciphers were hung up on both sides then until Mike Mc-Cormack donned the hero's garb in the second overtime session and, with a well-placed grass cutter over second, sent in Beaumont for the odd count. Beau had opened with a complimentary to the first cushion, taking second on Romer's sacrifice and advanced to third on Dolan's infield out. McCormack picked out Gibbs' first ball and pasted it a few feet out of the reach pasted it a few feet out of the react of Shortstop Hilt, Beaumont breezing

Eddie Files was yanked out after th Eddie Files was yanked out after the second inning, as the Orators showed a particular fondness for his delivery, bagging all their runs off him. Artic Romer, as the rescue heaver, more than filled the bill, holding his former mates safe for the remainder of the distance. Not once were the O'Rourkites dangerous after he assumed the slab duties.

Glbbs, who succeeded Pollard in the sixth, matched Artie for cleverness and that the McCormack outfit was Gibbs had a better grip on the game in the remaining innings, striking out seven men. Beaumont tripled in the eighth after two were gone and in the 10th Duggan reached first on an error by Schmaltz, but Gibbs showed the quality of his pitching goods when he struck out Baker and Ruell in succession. Then came the 11th and Mc-Cormack's hit sent everybody home real happy. The score: HOLYOKE.

PROTESTS WITHDRAWN: YOST CHAMPIONS

This is Way it Looks to Industrial League Fans.

The directors of the Industrial League met last evening with President E. T. Buckingham at the Y. M. C. A. to hear the protest of the No. 1 Crane Co. team of the Crane-Crane game of July 5. Supervisor of Umpires McCann upheld the action of Umpires Boland in his decisions, the protest being disallowed. The management of the Crane No. 2 team withdrew their protest of the Crane-Yost game, as on investigation it was found that the charges preferred against Pitcher Willard Jackson from the Wor-

Player Regenery of the Yost club were unfounded. With this action it looks unfounded. With this action it looks as if the Yosts will be the undisputed champions of the Industrial League for the season of 1909.

The matter of admissions to the games at Newfield Park was referred to the Finance committee. It is believed that an admission of only 15 cents will be charged in the future at Newfield, with admission free to ladies.
